* How do you interview applicants legally and still get the information you need?

* Do you have legal personnel files including I-9 forms for every employee as required by law?

* It is against the law to discriminate based on age, race, color, sex, ancestry, national origin, religion, sexual orientation or handicap. How does that affect your business?

* State and federal law requires certain posters for every business; have you got them?

* Do small businesses need Workers' Compensation?

* Performance evaluation can improve work in all companies. We've got a non-stressful way to do it!

* What most employees want is more recognition. What can you do about it?

* Developing and knowing policies and benefits is important for you and your employees. Do you have a handbook?

* Got a problem employee? How can you turn the situation around?

*If anyone in your company needs to develop their management skills we have the answer.

*How do you terminate an employee with less stress for you both?
